Praeger, Karen

Birthplace: London, England. Immigrated to U.S. at age eleven. United States citizen for ten years. A member of the Beatrix Potter Society and avid collector of anything and everything to do with Beatrix Potter (the great artist/naturalist and children's literary author).

Karen enjoys reading, especially British mysteries. She likes browsing in unique book shops, gardening, baking, spending time relaxing in the sun (usually while reading). She likes shopping at the outlet stores, collecting English bone china and writing notes to people. She loved school and still enjoys learning new things—that's why she enjoys what she does at Citrus—helping students with their assignments also helps her to learn more!

Favorites:

Place on campus: The fountain, especially when plants are in bloom; 2nd floor of the library (where all the wonderful books are and also the beautiful view of the foothills)

Book: Pride and Prejudice; also British mysteries

Word: Serenity

Movie: The Sound of Music; White Christmas

Song: "Daydream Believer" by The Monkees (she was a major Monkees fan growing up); "America" by Neil Diamond"; "God Bless the U.S.A." by Lee Greenwood (she gets teary-eyed whenever she hears the song)

Eatery: Tea Shops
