

All-Campus Emergency Preparedness Forum Evaluation
March 26, 2009

Thank you for coming to the Emergency Preparedness Forum! Please let us know what you think and how we can do better.

	Strongly Agree				Strongly Disagree
1. The Emergency Preparedness forum was well organized and informative.	5 40	4 15	3 1	2 1	1 -
2. I have a better understanding of what the college is doing to prepare for an emergency after attending the forum.	39	13	3	1	1
3. I feel more knowledgeable talking about what I need to do as a faculty, staff member, or a student in regards to emergencies.	34	12	7	3	-
4. I would like to attend more forums in the future.	36	11	6	2	1
5. I believe it is critical to have periodic college Emergency Preparedness forums such as this one.	47	7	2	-	1

Please tell us what else you would like to know regarding emergency preparedness:

- Someone needs to check the basements after an earthquake. We had someone stuck in the basement and didn't know it.
- Additional help with disruptive students.
- Will the video be available to show how to handle emergency situations etc.
- Schedule meetings like this for a department if requested.
- Will there be emergency food and water sources?
- Do we have a back up system if the electrical goes out?
- Disruptive students – please include staff as well as faculty.
- Publish some examples of disruptive students.
- Updated information on an on going basis.
- What could students do to be more prepared.

Other comments:

- Post the Standards of Student Conduct more on campus.
- A drill is needed and should include on call employees.
- Departmental small scale practice drills for evacuation procedures and locations.
- Keep it up great work !
- It would be good to have CPR & First Aid training available.
- I think it would be beneficial to provide an opportunity for all EOC/Emergency members to attend CPR & first aid classes.
- Send notification to managers to remind staff to call security if working on a non-working day (ie: Sat or Sun)
- I think Admissions and Counseling should have a panic button at front desk.
- We need panic buttons for all student services departments.
- These would be good on flex day, when everyone is present.
- Including the discussion on disruptive students was great !
- Speak into microphones when available and have more microphones for all speakers.
- How would students be aware of student conduct policy?
- Make student more aware of the student conduct code because a lot of students seem to be unaware of their rights. Ex: FERPA.
- How does government code, Chapter 8, section 3100 apply to student employees?
- What is the responsibility of a student worker? What can they do to help?
- Hand outs of the emergency response procedures would have been better and talked more about specific situations or procedures that would take place at this campus instead of being so general.
- Provide the brochure Human Resources has instead of telling us what to do.
- Mandatory Drills for offices and departments.
- School wide communication regarding mandatory drills.
- This is a nice start.
- Do part-time teachers have this information?
- Need more tips on how to handle disruptive students(ex: what to say to a student to calm them down)
- Thank you this was great !
- This workshop is very helpful.
- I would like to learn more about how to deal with disruptive students.
- I think Jim Cope is “dreamy”
- The disruptive Students presentation didn’t tie into Emergency Preparedness. Calling Security is standard information, but how security responds and what exact services or resources are utilized to aid the situation was not covered. Maybe if the scenario of a shooter on campus was used and how Citrus College is prepared to respond, then the Disruptive Students presentation could have tied into the gist of the forum.
- Good Job
