GOT CITRUS NEWS?

We want to hear from you. E-mail Citrus-related information to Stacy Quillen at squillen@citruscollege.edu. The Weekly Bulletin is distributed to all faculty and staff via campus e-mail. To view past issues of the Weekly Bulletin, please visit (and bookmark): <http://www.citruscollege.edu/pio>

Budget Forum Details Available

Citrus College faculty, staff, and Board of Trustee members joined Dr. Geraldine Perri, superintendent/ president, and Carol Horton, vice president of finance and administrative services, at an all-campus Budget Update Forum on February 26 in the Center for Innovation Community Room. During the event, Dr. Perri and Carol Horton provided information about the state and college budgets. If you were unable to attend the forum and would like to view the information that was presented, access the power point online by visiting <http://www.citruscollege.edu/apps/Comm.asp?Q=67> or click here.

Empty Bowls Soup Supper This Friday

Don't miss the Empty Bowls Project's Soup Supper on Friday, March 6 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Glendora (located at Bennett and Glendora Avenue). For only $15, participants in the Empty Bowls Project will receive a ceramic bowl, handmade by Citrus College students and other volunteers, filled with soup from local restaurants. They will also be treated to a performance by the Citrus College Jazz Band. The funds raised at the event will be used to aid those in need of immediate hunger relief. For more information, contact Mike Hillman at 626-914-8661.

Men's Basketball Team Wins Playoff Game

By Andrew Wheeler, Sports Information Coordinator

Over the past three seasons, the Citrus College men's basketball team has played in eight playoff games. So, Saturday night's game against Victor Valley was nothing new for the Fighting Owls. Though players have changed, one thing remained the same. They acted like they had been there before. The end result was a rather convincing 95-81 win over the visiting Rams, as they advanced to the Sweet 16 for the second year in a row. With the win, Citrus improves 28-4 overall. Thanks to the victory, the Fighting Owls will live to fight another day when they host the #7 seed Riverside City College next Saturday at 7:00 p.m.

Join the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure

A Citrus College team will be participating in the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure for Los Angeles County. This will be the third year that the college has had a presence at the event. Once again, the team will be lead by Holly Colville and will include faculty, staff, students, and friends. This 5K "race" will be held at the Rose Bowl on Sunday, March 15. The opening ceremony begins at 9 a.m. Funds raised are used to support local breast cancer services, particularly for underinsured women, and national breast cancer research programs. For more information, or if you are interested in joining the Citrus College team, contact Holly Colville at ext. 8777 before Thursday, March 4.

Citrus People

The "Citrus People" section will be included in the first Weekly Bulletin of every month. If you would like to announce any achievements, births, marriages, deaths, etc., e-mail the pertinent information to squillen@citruscollege.edu.

Achievements

- Congratulations to Dr. Sale Salwak. He recently published a review of the book "First We Read, Then We Write: Emerson on the Creative Process" in the London Times Higher Education Magazine. The book was written by Robert D. Richardson and published by the University of Iowa Press.
- Congratulations to Maintenance Utility Worker Paul Frazier. He has been selected as the Facilities Department's MVP of the Year. Paul, who has worked for Facilities for the past four years after transferring from Automotive, was selected for his exceptional dedication, get-it-done attitude and incredible work output.

Public Works Scholarships

For the first time ever, Citrus College is offering $500 scholarships for students in the Public Works program. Targeted populations include incumbent workers already in the Public Works field, women wishing to enter the field, and high school students looking for career training. Completed applications with a letter of recommendation from an employer or instructor must be received by the Citrus College Workforce Development Office by March 31, 2009. Award decisions will be made by the Citrus College Public Works Advisory Council. Scholarship awardees will be recognized at the June MSA meeting at Citrus College. For an application or additional information, contact the Workforce Development Office at ext. 8701.
