

Citrus College Faculty Learning Institute presents

The All Campus Book Event! October 16 & 17

Pick up your free copy of The Last Lecture and join conversations all over campus!

“Really Achieving Your Childhood Dreams” is the title of the last lecture given by Randy Pausch, Computer Science professor at Carnegie Mellon University, after learning he was dying of pancreatic cancer. Dr. Pausch based his inspirational book on this phenomenal lecture. He died on July 25, 2008, at age 47.

Let’s talk together on October 16 or 17 about the book and what it means to achieve our dreams.

For your free copy, choose ONE conversation group ONE day and RSVP Sylvia Smythe, ssmythe@citruscollege.edu, or Diana Gill, dgill@citruscollege.edu.

October 16: 12:00-1:00: Faculty Lounge or Fishbowl; or 4:30-5:30, Fishbowl

October 17: 12:00-1:00, Fishbowl, or CFI Conference Room 237
