My Citrus Story
Jose Duran
“As a veteran, I was able to participate in the Boots to Books course, where professors like Dr. Bruce Solheim helped me make the difficult transition to college life. With hard work and a little help from others, anything is possible.”

Citrus College, through its Veterans Program, is a “Military Friendly School” designation from G.I. Jobs magazine. A Military Friendly School designation is awarded to higher education institutions that provide the most support to America’s student veterans.
