

“Ramen (left) and Bones (right) have become inseparable over the years. Despite being larger and heftier, Ramen always looks up to Bones as the Alpha Dog and follows his brother everywhere he goes. They were both adopted from a shelter. Words cannot express how much they have enriched my life. They are the Ying and Yang that keeps everything in balance and perspective. As they continue to remind me daily, the recipe of happiness lies in ample sleep, sneaking snacks, looking fashionable, but most importantly, loving everyone unconditionally, (except for the neighborhood cat).”

Ramen and Bones belong to Caroline Kim-ESL instructor/Noncredit

Pet of the Month sponsored by Classified Development Committee

